Under certain financial counseling programs, the Adviser may recommend securities or investment products, including those offered by its affiliates.

The Adviser provides a variety of financial counseling, investment advisory, investment education, and other services. The Adviser's counseling services may consist of, among other things, assisting the counseled individuals in developing a comprehensive program designed to maximize the benefits of their employers' existing compensation and fringe benefit programs, to conserve the counseled individual's assets, to manage income on a long-term basis, and/or to develop an individual retirement and estate plan.

The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. is engaged in businesses and has interests other than providing financial counseling services to individuals. This includes the management and sale of investment funds and other financial products that may be recommended to counseled individuals, and investment activities and business operations that may affect such funds or products. The Adviser and its counselors may receive various forms of compensation, commissions, payments, rebates, and services related to sponsoring, managing, or selling investment products recommended to counseled individuals. This may incentivize the Adviser and its counselors to recommend such products over others which might also be appropriate for counseled individuals.

The Adviser may provide tax advice to clients in accordance with its client agreement. Any advice contained in the communication including attachments and enclosures is intended for the sole use of the addressee and is limited to the facts and circumstances known to the author at the time of this writing. Certain tax matters may require you to consult with your tax counsel. You should consult with your tax preparer regarding implementation of tax advice. GS&Co. does not provide accounting or tax advice to its clients, unless explicitly agreed between the client and GS&Co. All clients should be aware that tax treatment is subject to change by law, in the future or retroactively, and clients should consult with their tax advisors regarding any potential strategy, investment, or transaction. Neither GS&Co., nor the Adviser provide legal advice to their clients, and all clients should consult with their own legal advisor regarding any potential strategy, investment, financial plan, estate plan or with respect to their interest in any employee benefit or retirement plan.

Potential Conflicts of Interest

Under certain of the Adviser's financial counseling programs, the Adviser may recommend securities or investment products, including those offered by its affiliates. This could lead to conflicts of interest of which you should be aware. More information regarding the Adviser's business practices and conflicts is set forth in Goldman Sachs Wealth Services Form ADV brochure, which is available online and upon request. The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc., the Adviser, and their affiliates and employees (collectively, "Goldman Sachs") are engaged in businesses and have interests other than providing financial counseling services to individuals. This includes the management and sale of investment funds and other financial products that may be recommended to counseled individuals, and investment activities and business operations that may affect such funds or products. Goldman Sachs, the Adviser, and its counselors may receive various forms of compensation, commissions, payments, rebates, and services related to sponsoring, managing, or selling investment products recommended to counseled individuals. This may incentivize the Adviser or its affiliates and their employees to recommend such products over others which might also be appropriate for counseled individuals. Goldman Sachs' arrangements with outside managers may differ, and currently Goldman Sachs, the Adviser, and its counselors receive greater compensation for accounts managed by Goldman Sachs affiliates than in connection with separate accounts managed by non-Goldman Sachs entities.

The Adviser or its affiliates may engage in insurance consulting or the insurance agency business for purposes of offering insurance contracts to counseled individuals, including variable life insurance contracts for which the Adviser or its counselors may receive various forms of compensation. In addition, investment advisors of investment funds and products that may be offered to counseled individuals also may have other clients, businesses, and interests in addition to managing the assets of such product. Present and future activities of Goldman Sachs and other advisers in addition to those described in this supplement may give rise to additional conflicts of interest.

No part of this material may be i) copied, photocopied, or duplicated in any form, by any means, or ii) redistributed without the Adviser's prior consent.
